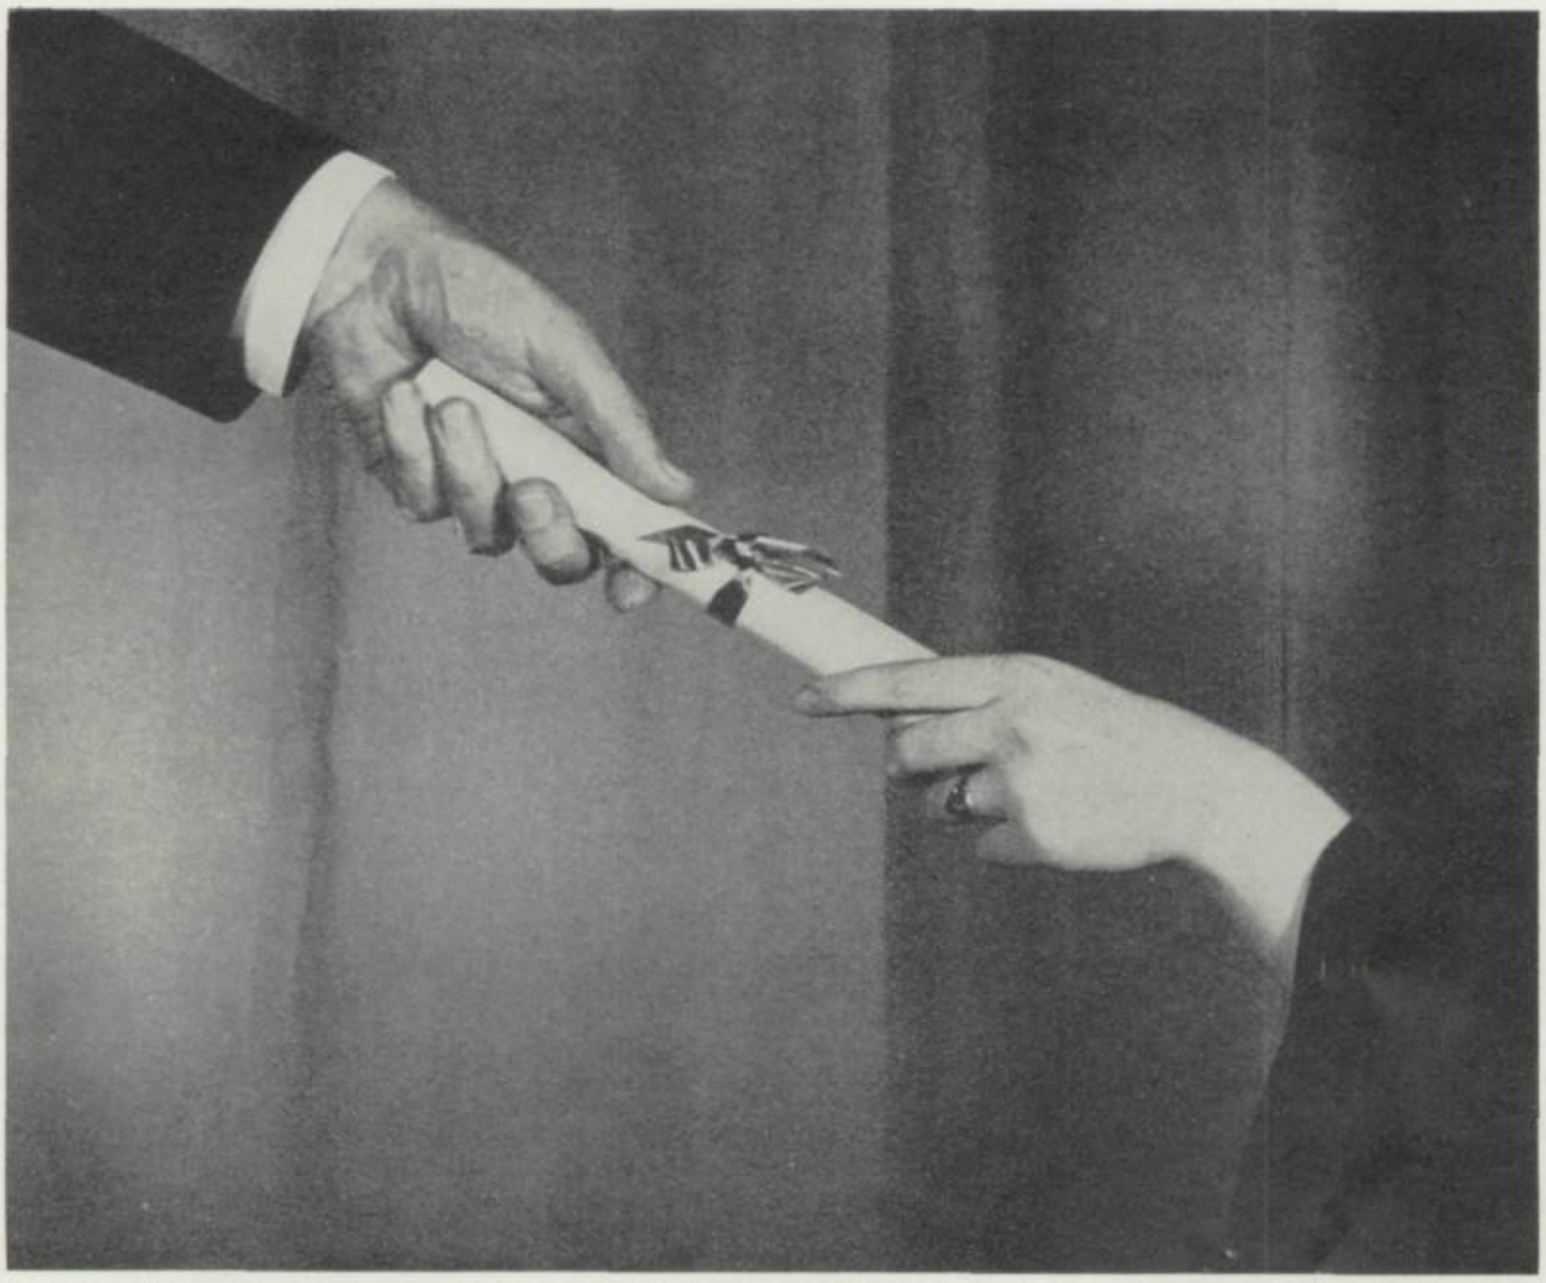
Seniors

"The wise hand catches what the fool's eye sees."



A. Ross, D. Anderson, B. Oakwood, Miss Powers, B. Bailey, Mr. Armer, B. Blough, J. Hagadone, J. Skidmore, G. Young, J. Willey.

SENIOR ADVISORY BOARD

President . . . . . Roy Ringlund
Vice-President . . . . . Randy Snyder
Secretary . . . . . Enid Hensel
Girls' Treasurer . . . . . Barbara Swain
Boys' Treasurer . . . . . Jim Mitchell
Sponsors . . . Miss Powers, Mr. Armer

The senior advisory board, elected from the American history classes and with a representative from the Lion, the Tabulae, and the student council, guided the seniors through their activities during year. Beginning the year with a successful class party, the class continued their outstanding activities with the Christmas card sales, the senior play, the senior assembly, the Senior Salute, baccalaureate, and ended the year in a flourish with the prom and commencement.

The Christmas card sales were biggest in the history of the school and enabled the class to have a wonderful prom at Tam O'Shanter.

AT THE MARDI GRAS

UNDERCLASSMEN

Mr. Bennett shows Miss Christopherson, Miss Corley, Mrs. Doherty and Miss Fruit the finer points of tuning a radio.

The madonna enchants Mr. J. Davis, Miss Christensen and Mr. Sloan, while Mr. Armer enchants Miss Gage.

While Mr. Hunt gesticulates about the size of the tree Miss Stokes, Mr. Hallam and Miss Keizer seem amused. Oops! Is that an oversized angel hanging on the tree or Mr. Glick?

Journalism awards are proudly exhibited by Miss Keefe to Mr. Holt, Miss Daugherty and Mrs. Bogdanski.

Our friendly family portrait is disturbed by Mr. Allen and Mrs. Wenner—math versus biology. Mrs. Glick, Miss Hodson and Mr. Maus smile on.

Miss Aucutt gives an amusing travelogue to Mr. Richardson, Miss Fry, Mr. Gianuzzi, Miss Brown, Dr. Luke and Mrs. Wood.

"Now this hoo dinghy goes here," says Mr. Warning to Miss Powers, Miss Stookey, Mrs. Smith and Mr. Wright.

While Mr. Olsen, Mr. Hawkins and Miss Banks confer, Mr. Warkow gives some snappy dialogue to Mr. Bitting, Mr. Deabler, Mr. Elliott and Miss Rathert.

Travel experts Miss Lutz and Miss Sheppard show Miss Gilliland, Mr. Schwass and Miss Hileman the interesting spots.

What's this, a Shakespeare club? Hamlet is breathlessly awaited by Mr. Zimdars, Miss Wittmayer, Miss Jordan, Mrs. Walker and Mr. Payne.

"Figaro, Figaro," warbles Miss Thompson to Miss Reid and Mr. Towell. Miss Magee is "tickled".

"Who, me?" says Miss McCusker to Mr. Walter Payne. Mr. Stacey seems pleased with his directing—so do Miss Allen, Mr. Yearous, and Mr. Maves.

Shh—preparations seem to be under way for a more powerful hydrogen bomb by Messrs. Sedgwick, Burkhardt, Craven and Walker.

"Ah, one, two, two and a half, three!" says Miss Drexler to her orchestra—Mr. Deason, Mr. Dissinger, Miss Farr, Mr. S. L. Davis and Mrs. Fetzner.

Ruth Draper

"Now, girls, here's how to catch and keep a man," explains Mr. Bacon to Miss Carnal, Miss Darling and Miss Birney. Mr. Boge agrees.

A large office force helps LT run smoothly. Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Ronk, Mrs. Emerson, Miss Martinek and Miss Homer show their efficiency. Mrs. Payne, Mrs. Kay, and Miss Holloway keep tab on the files.

Ah, ah—isn't there a rule about stealing Christmas tree ornaments? Mr. Rehn, Miss Thomas, Mr. Swisher and Miss Ripley pay no heed.

The finer points of an adding machine are demonstrated by Mr. Howard to Mrs. Parshall, Mr. Hook and Miss Nickel.

Mr. Hilgendorf seems pleased to know that now he can have a reading rate of 800 words a minute by using Mrs. McClelland's reading machine. Miss Kramer, Mr. Nelson and Mr. Montgomery wonder.

STUDENT COUNCIL

President . . . Catherine Wilson

Vice-President . . . . Bruce Scott

Secretary . . Donna Jean Simenson

Treasurer . . Caryl Van de Houten

The student council as a whole, with its twenty-two members, directs its work towards attaining better representation of each student in school affairs, towards encouraging the student activities, and towards perfecting school-community relations.

Council carries on its work via the guidance-group, the elected representative assembly, and various committees. These committees include business management, student guidance, citizenship, participation, publicity, school spirit, and social. Working together, these groups compose one of the most powerful and influential forces at LT.

Many important projects were executed during the past year. Among these, the foot parades following victorious home football games proved to be very successful. The council also won the support of the village for the new building now being constructed, through student publicity and community education. Of significant value were the special guidance days held to encourage constructive student criticism of activities, school spirit, and the general attitude prevalent at LT.

Highlighting the council year was the district student council convention held at LT one Saturday in November when LT played host to 600 representatives of 60 schools. Dave Allen, past president of our council, was the speaker.

CORRAL

President . . . . Bob Van Nest

Vice-President . . . . Dave Eckley

Secretary . . . . Donna Simenson

Treasurer . . . . . Shelley Chase

Having a membership of over 1,000 members enables the Corral to boast of being the largest student-run youth organization in the country. At the close of the membership drive a dance was held which was free to the seniors, who had the highest percentage of members.

Throughout the year, in addition to several scheduled dances, there were bands playing on Friday nights after basketball games. However, there was always room for the ping pong fanatics and "TV" watchers. The television set was a new addition this year.

Held for the third consecutive year, the Corral show, this year dubbed "Curtain Call", not only raised money but gave the teen-agers a chance to show the adults what they could really do. Both the board and the members worked hard to make the show a hit.

Without the advice of the adult board and the co-operation and backing of each member and the entire town the Corral would never be, the success that it is.

GIRLS' CLUB

President . . . . . Carole Krueger

Girls' club has again proved itself to be one of the most popular and successful organizations of the school.

The board this year consisted of fifteen members, most of whom headed interest groups. These groups express the ideas and thoughts of all the members of the club.

Highlights of the year included the Big and Little Sister activities and party, the Freshman Mother and Daughter, tea, Bow day, various drives such as polio and canned foods, and the annual Girls' club dance, this year named "Valentine Village." This dance was the biggest of the year, breaking records in originality and attendance. The board members also journeyed to Thornton for the Girls' club conference.

BOYS' CLUB

President . . Kenneth Johnson
Vice-President . Jim Mitchell
Secretary . . . . Al Ross
Treasurer . . . Bob Bailey
Sponsors . . . Mr. Warkow, Mr. Craven, Mr. Davis, Mr. Warning, Mr. Bennett, Mr. Stevens

Everytime you look up some magical phone number in your student directory, you are paying tribute to one of the Boys' club's activities.

Organized four years ago with all boys in school as members, the club has matured into one of the cornerstones of LT. A now firm institution is the Father and Son sports nights. Prominent was the winter event with the showing of movies of the Rose Bowl game. Trips to Chicago to swim, see various cultural spots, observe vocations, and attend outstanding sports events highlights the year's activities. The Boys' club also holds an annual spring dance, this year named "Four Star Final", and publishes the student directory. A rapidly progressing branch, Rifle club, has grown up almost overnight, and various other interest groups contribute to the activity field.

The far-off garret of room 302 was the scene of much frantic activity this year, with writers, photographers, artists, and what have you, all contributing to the general confusion.

The "push" behind all this activity—Dave Sessions, editor, and his associate editors, Pat Palm and Tom Coleman, could be found there any afternoon conferring or arguing, as the case prompted. Any suggestions of conventional trends for the book were quickly hushed. Bob Hershey, and Bob Hill, photographers; Pat Strauss, lay-out artist; and Martin Beckman, artist, went to work with relish at the idea of putting the pictures into unusual arrangements, while the writers employed a modernistic style. Typists and copyreaders, who also acted as writers and odd job workers, lent their invaluable assistance.

The TAB room was not always a scene of industry, as the wreckage of the Christmas party attested. One Saturday late this winter Pat Palm, Dave Sessions, Tom Coleman, Pat Strauss, Bob Hershey, and Miss Keizer visited the offices of Hammersmith-Kortmeyer company, in Milwaukee, to see how the TAB is printed.

The staff hopes that you find as much enjoyment in reading and looking at this book as they had in presenting this truly unusual TAB.

LION

Enrollment in journalism classes boomed this year with the beginning of an advanced class as well as two other first year classes.

The large LION staff of 55 under the editorship of Freya Brown, and Janice Willey with their associate editors Janet Brown, Pat Strauss, and Bob Weir scurried about finding news, ads, pictures and so on for publication twice a month. Plus that, they sent entries into journalism contests and magazines, wrote news for the CITIZEN, and attended press conferences throughout the year. Teacher Appreciation day was sponsored for the second time and won national recognition.

The LION holds membership in the Chicago Scholastic press guild, and participates in their activities. Boxes of warm clothes and other items requested were sent to the staff's adopted school in Germany.

All-American honor rating, which is given yearly to the top 14 high school papers in the country, was bestowed upon last year's LION. The news of the honor was received this year and gave the staff an added fervor for work. First place classification was also given the LION by Quill and Scroll last year.

The ever-patient and guiding hand behind all the long nerve-racking work and hours was Miss Keefe.

Tralta, formerly called Tri-Hi-Y, has been very successful in carrying out its purpose: "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the community high standards of Christian character."

The program of the girls' branch of Hi-Y was designed by the officers to include worship, education, service, and social activities. The members, who met twice a month, raised $50 for World Service donations by sponsoring a bake sale. Several of the girls received great satisfaction from providing the annual party for children at Bethlehem Center.

Interesting movies and panels on careers and ten-age problems were offered by members and parents. Not overlooking the social angle, such programs as a box supper, a barn dance, and joint discussions on dating with Hi-Y were greatly enjoyed.

With a membership of forty boys this year, Hi-Y again provided a chance for many LT boys to get together twice a month and have a lot of fun and at the same time listen to interesting speakers and engage in worthwhile projects.

This year many fine speakers appeared at the meetings. Among these were a doctor, an army colonel, and F.B.I. man, a ceramical engineer, a banker, and a coach. Several of the programs included movies of travel and football games.

The annual candle-light initiation ceremony was held in November, featuring an inspiring talk on Hi-Y ideals by Mr. Nelson of the Lutheran church.

The club had their regular movie booth at the Mardi Gras at which they showed Abbott and Costello films. During basketball season, a pot-luck supper was held for the members by the Downers Grove Hi-Y. In February a joint box supper and square dance were held with Tri-Hi-Y, and in March an interesting panel discussion was held with Tri-Hi-Y, sponsored by the West Suburban "Y".

The Omega Epsilon Omega spirit can always be seen drifting around the halls. The club, composed of girls who have made the honor roll, brought the spirit into Homecoming with the OEO owl, symbol of their wisdom. Their programs have included a chalk talk by Mrs. West, a travelog by Miss Aucutt, and a candlelight initiation ceremony. Three scholarships to JC will be presented to members of the club.

DEBATE

"Can you come over tonight to work over that point?" is a question frequently asked of a debater by a fellow worker. Most debaters spent several hours each week in avid research on this year's proposition, "Resolved: That the president of the United States should be elected by the direct vote of the people."

Just for practice Van Oooms, Lee Battles, Keith Yarborough, and Bob Yount on the affirmative side battled the negative team consisting of George Phillips, Bob Wier, Duane Batista, and Charles Nagel. The direct result of all this effort plus the excellent supervision of Coach Ivan Rehn is the fine record made at the numerous tournaments, especially the Metropolitan Debate union tournament, a round-robin type participated in by sixteen schools of Illinois and Indiana. At Augustana the team placed third out of twenty-seven schools, and at LaGrange, Lake Forest, and East Rockford meets tied for first place.

Varsity members won't forget the exhibition meet at Purdue, when they argued against the state champion of Kentucky.

A special award, a bronze pin, is given to the outstanding freshman debater of the year, while silver and gold pins are awarded on the basis of points to the outstanding sophomore, junior, and senior debaters.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Organized as an active chapter for the first year at LT, Quill and Scroll came into existence as a national honorary journalism society. Students meeting the requirements of 85 published inches and high scholastic rank are admitted. This year the members elected officers: Freya Brown, president; Janice Willey, vice-president; Dode Bieler, secretary; Janet Brown, treasurer; Chuck Brodie, keeper of the archives; and decided to become a combination service-honor organization.

Quill and Scroll aimed to stimulate interest in competitive writing contests. The year's activities included a tea for present and college members, a spring banquet, and journalistic exhibitions. Miss Kathryn Keefe and Miss Aileen Daugherty are sponsors.

RED CROSS COUNCIL

Performing a noble job in LT is the Junior Red Cross council; sponsored by Miss Aucutt, this group of students carries forth in behalf of our school the standards of the national organization. With the money earned last year by selling candy at basketball games three radios were purchased for the Fort Sheridan training camp.

The money earned this year will be spent for some similar need. Richard Wagner was in charge of sales.

During the National Red Cross drive, the council headed by Russell Doebler, placed posters in all village store-windows to publicize the town drive and conducted the membership drive in LT; in the drive a majority of guidance classes made a record of one-hundred per cent contribution.

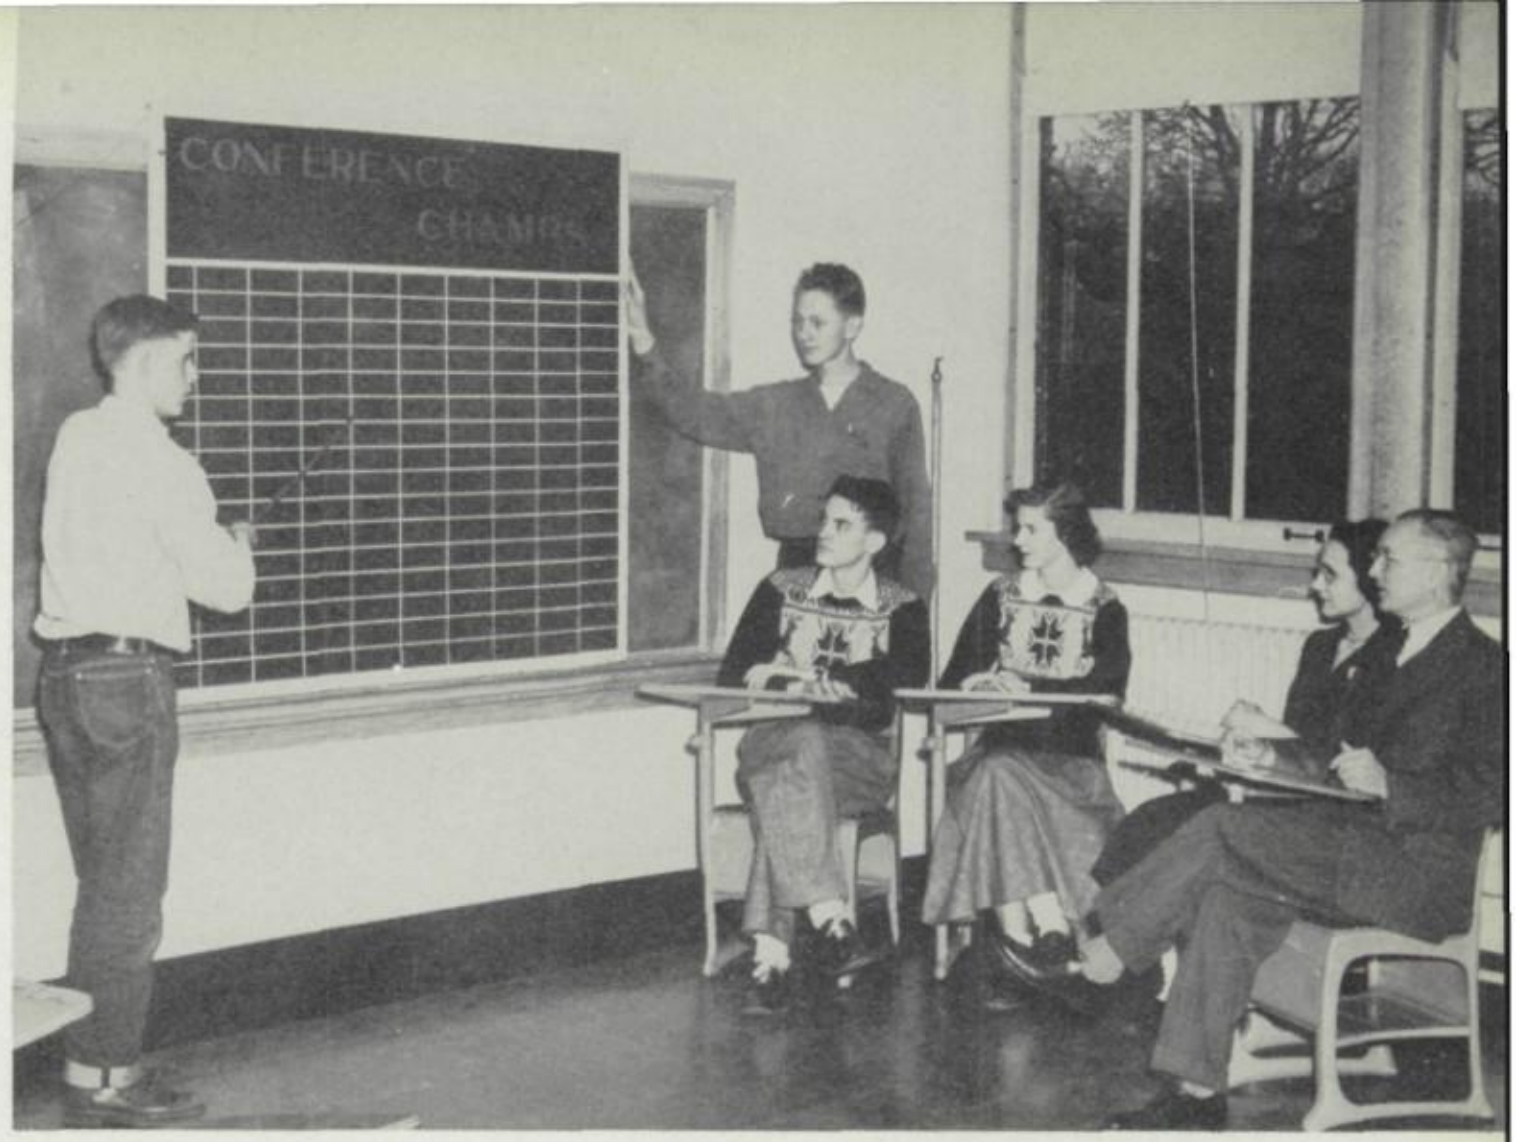
This club, organized only two years ago, has rendered both a useful and important service to our high school. By delving back into LT's past history, they have brought our records up to date.

Although not a social organization, this group has more than its share of fun. Their main activity for this year has been the compiling of a Conference Champs Score Board, which tabulates the winners in every phase of athletics from 1935 to 1950.

Through its necessary service, this club has won a permanent place for itself in LT's extra-curricular program.



T. Racine, B. Adler, B. Greenlee, D. Richmond, L. Zingrone, Mr. Towell.

PEP CLUB

For the second year the members of Pep club in their bright gold and blue rallied to cheer the teams at every basketball game. The purpose of this club is to promote cheering and good sportsmanship at games. Urged on by coaches Bob Bailey and Nancy Knappenberger the senior girls of Pep club met in a sham battle on the football field at a pep assembly.

Pep club also did a bang-up job on its float in the Homecoming Parade and on its booth in the Mardi Gras. The officers were president, Dot Sanborn; vice-president, Betty Jane Hansen; secretary, Lois Carson; treasurer, Eunice Carlstedt.

STAMP CLUB

President . . Charles Anderson
Vice-President . John Vaughan
Secretary . . Dorothy Richmond
Treasurer . . . Dick Roberts
Sponsor . . . Mr. John Davis

The "Hobby of Kings" is also the hobby of many enthusiastic LT students, who especially like the auction meetings where many valuable stamps go to the highest bidders. They keep up with current prints of stamps by affiliating with the National Philatelic association, which sells the stamps to them at face value.

WRITERS' CLUB

Chuck Brodie, Bud Page, Dick Tombaugh, and Pat Strauss in the positions of president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively, led this club to fame with the help of Miss Jordan in the roll of sponsor.

Those interested in pen-pushing found Writers' club the activity of their choice. A primary aim was the encouragement of writing in various styles. Many speakers, among them Mr. Nickolas of the LA GRANGE CITIZEN and Mrs. McClelland of LT, discussed topics pertaining to different forms of literature. The club also held meetings devoted to the discussion and criticism of members' endeavors.

Of primary importance during the year was a mid-winter banquet at which plans were discussed for the 1950 PEN AND INKLINGS. During the following months committees sorted contributions, organized the magazine, and followed it through to publication. Proceeds from the sale of PEN AND INKLINGS were set aside for next year's treasury and an even better magazine for 1951.

CONSERVATION CLUB

President . . . Wally Martin
Vice-President . . John Vaughan
Secretary . . . Donna Murdock
Treasurer . . . Dick Johnson
Sponsor . . . . Mr. Swisher

1950 brought a new and different club into existence at LT. The new organization was christened Conservation club, and the initial membership consisted of about thirty members. Wally Martin was elected the first president and the faculty sponsor is Mr. Swisher. The purpose of the club is to teach its members how to practice the preserving and rebuilding of our natural resources. The club is part of a state-wide organization and is affiliated with the Illinois State Conservation Department.

In its bi-monthly meetings, the club has featured movies of Alaska and Yellowstone National Park, and has had speakers prominent in the State Conservation societies. In the spring, the club also sponsored a conservation project.

CAMERA CLUB

LT's shutterbugs hold membership in Camera club and keep their interest alive by meetings once a month to pool their ideas and knowledge. Under the leadership of Bob Hershey, president; Jack Phelps, vice-president; Bob Hill, secretary; and Chuck Brodie, treasurer, the group has journeyed to Morton Arboretum and the Museum of Science and Industry to practice its skills.

Several speakers including Karl Pfizenmaier, Mr. Holub, Carl Schirrholtz, Bob Hershey, and John Dockum offered helpful information on professional photography, slides, and composition.

The spring salon climaxed the activities of the year, when the works of members were exhibited. S. L. Davis is sponsor.

Treasurer . . . . . Ken Stack
Sponsors . . . . . Mr. J. Davis, Mr. Craven, Mr. Schwass

The once small Boys' club interest group, Rifle club, has in one year matured into an organization boasting over 100 active members. This group has the valuable objective of training boys in the safe and correct use of fire-arms and of keeping rifle shooting a safe sport. Most of the club members are qualified for National Rifle association awards, and a rifle team has been organized to compete in matches. It is hoped, also, that the future will include shooting as an interscholastic sport.

HOME EC CLUB

President . . . . . Leah Bobeck
Vice-President . . Georgene Guzzardo
Secretary . . . . . Pat Joern
Treasurer . . . . . Nancy Boyd
Sponsors . . . Miss Reid, Miss Stokes

Home Ec club, one of the largest clubs in the school, has had another successful year.

Any girl who is enrolled in or has had a course in Home Economics is eligible to join this club. The installation and induction meeting, held in October, was a beautiful and impressive candlelight service.

Other important meetings included the Christmas party when the girls turned social workers and entertained small underprivileged children from La Grange; a silver meeting consisting of a discussion on place settings; a Valentine mother-daughter tea; and last, a spring style show.

This club also is a member of the American Home Economics association.

GERMAN CLUB

President . . . . . Dave Sessions
Vice-President . . . Jerry Skidmore
Secretary . . . . . Shelley Chase
Treasurer . . . . . Merle Schmidt
Sponsors . . . . . Miss Rathert, Miss Wittmayer

German club started off the year with a bang by their float in the Homecoming Parade. Their booth at the Mardi Gras was the "surprise" of the dance—turning out to be baby pictures of the "famous" seniors.

At the first meeting, held in October, movies of Germany were shown. The December meeting, according to tradition, was the Christmas at which "Der Weihnachtsmann" (alias Dirck Post) visited and gave out presents to those who had been good. In addition to that there were games, refreshments, and German Christmas carols. The club agenda also included a field trip to Chicago to "Das Kino" to see a German movie.

FRENCH CLUB

President . . . . . Peggy Ives
Vice-President . . . . Wilda Wolf
Secretary . . . . . Jane Coultas
Sponsor . . . . . Miss Lutz

"Le Cercle Francais", which is organized for having fun and broadening one's knowledge of France and its people, had a most successful year.

At several of the monthly meetings a young Frenchman, Monsieur Lindegaard, spoke on subjects of student interest. At another meeting a French war bride talked on life in Paris.

The group had a wonderful opportunity opened to them in attending "France Comes to You", the French Trade and Travel Exhibition. They also took a field trip to the "Eglise Evangelique Francaise" (French Huguenot Church) in the city.

During the holiday season French club celebrated at a party with the junior college group and the first year students by singing carols, playing charades and enjoying a visit from "le pére Noel." Their other activities including running a "bureau télégraphic" at the Mardi Gras, and winning a prize on their Joan of Lyons float in the Homecoming parade.

They topped off their year by presenting a one-act comedy and holding a banquet with inimitable French food and patisseries in celebration of a provincial French féte.

Treasurer . . . Bill Munns

Sponsors . . . Miss Gage, Mrs. Walker, Miss Carnal

With one of the largest memberships in school, El Circulo Espanol is able to make each of its four meetings a year a really successful fiesta. Perhaps the best-loved of these is the Christmas party where the gaily decorated "pinatas" are hung from the ceiling, later to be broken so that they spill their delicious candies on the floor. It is seldom you see so many kids scrambling around on the floor all at once! Another tradition yearly upheld by the club is their sale of bright and lovely flowers at Mardi Gras.

CICERO CLUB

Consul . . . Pete McKinney
Consul . . . . Don Emmons
Scriba . . . Martha Brooks
Quaester . . . Gene McCoy
Tribune of the Common People . . Martha Morgan

Cicero club, composed of third and fourth year Latin students, this year was again under the sponsorship of Miss Birney. Since this club is made up of the members of the advanced Latin classes, its members have the doubtful privilege of meeting every day of the school year. In addition to these more or less learned daily meetings, the members of the club have engaged in several activities outside of their class. The club opened the year by entering its float in the Homecoming Parade. Until Christmas time the members absorbed more Latin, but as Christmas vacation approached, they united with Latin club in the annual Saturnalia party. The big event of the year was the Roman banquet staged in March. This gala celebration featured a four course meal complete with slaves, reclining chairs, and entertainment.

LATIN CLUB

President . . Nancy Seegers
Secretary . . Joanne Heppes
Treasurer . . . Deane Tank
Sponsors . . Miss Thompson
Miss Drexler

Latin club continued its varied activities this year under the capable sponsorship of Miss Thompson and Miss Drexler. With the members of the Latin II classes making up its personnel, Latin club held several interesting meetings. One of these, the celebration of Saturnalia, was held with the Cicero club at Christmas-time. Also engaging in other activities, the club had a float in the Homecoming parade and a booth at the Mardi Gras. On March 14 the members acted as slaves and entertainers at the Roman banquet given by the Cicero club.

BIOLOGY CLUB

President . . . . . Merle Schmidt
Vice-President . . . James Sherwood
Secretary-Treasurer . . Russell De Long
Sponsor . . . . . Mrs. Wenner

In order to emphasize their purpose — "to do things biological in nature and interesting to the group" — LT's "bugologists" visited the arboretum and the Field museum early this year.

"Neurosis and Alcoholism in a Cat" and "Comparison of Development of a Chimpanzee and a Human Baby," two silent movies, added life to their monthly meetings.

At the frog-dissecting contest held the latter part of the year, the eminent biologists had a chance to display the knowledge gained in former meetings.

FI-KEM

President . . . . . Harrison Winter
Vice-President . . . . John Daymont
Secretary . . . . . Chuck Brodie
Treasurer . . . . . Jim Populorum
Sponsors . . Mr. Warning, Mr. Craven

Those desiring to blow up the school discovered a harmless outlet for these excess energies in the LT science club, Fi-Kem. Besides sponsoring entrants in national scientific contests, the organization provided the members with a variety of programs, including many interesting demonstrations presented by students in correlation with their private research.

Outstanding among the programs was a tour through the Electromotive chemical and engineering building, where the members were shown the petroleum research laboratory, the designing room, and the testing equipment of the corporation.

The pencils and paints wielded by All Arts Klub members this past year have provided enjoyment for others as well as art recreation for themselves. Principal among their accomplishments were the Nativity scene painted on the window at State and Madison, which brought the Christmas spirit to LT, and Mother's day cards for veterans to send home.

The spring art exhibit, sponsored by the club, provided artists a chance to display their work to villagers. Paramount among the field trips was an excursion to the Van Gogh exhibit at Chicago's Art institute.

Treasurer . . . . . William Munns
Sponsors . . . Miss Allen, Miss Sheppard, Mr. Stacy, Mr. Bacon

Dramatics club succeeded in its purpose of giving each member a chance to develop his dramatic talent, through the presentation of one-act plays at the monthly meetings. The club this year also undertook the task of making the Christmas assembly abound with Yuletide spirit by presenting a one-act play, Unto the Least of These. At the Mardi Gras hundreds were amused by the club's production of a humorous pantomime.

Secretary . . . . . Joan Hannauer
Treasurer . . . . . Jim Patterson
Sponsors . . Miss McCusker, Mr. Dissinger

LT's music club has soared to new heights this year, proving to be both entertaining and inspiring. The year commenced with the Freshman Follies, an exhibition of musical talent by freshman members. Of special interest was a program featuring the musically inclined faculty.

Joy Reeve and Margaret Barton, winners of Mu Tau's local piano contest, continued LT's reputation by topping downstate competition. All in all, this club has provided the members the opportunity and encouragement to perform before a qualified critical group.

OPERETTA

Another successful operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance", was presented March 24 and 25, under the direction of Mr. Dissinger and Miss Sheppard. As in past years, a double cast was selected by auditions from the members of the choir. The leading roles were as follows: Frederic (Rod Webber and Dick Tombaugh), Mabel (Georgia Bail and Martha Morgan), Major-general (Dick Roberts and Bill Munns), Ruth (Martha Brooks and Joan Hannauer), Pirate King (Louie Simpson and Tom Coleman), Samuel (Dennis Butterfield and John Miller), Kate (Nancy Seegers and Enid Hensel), Edith (Jean Allgaier and Nancy Knappenberger), Sergeant of Police (Pete McKinney and Dave West), and Isabel (Mary Norton and Mary Lahey). The parts of the brawny pirates were taken by the male tenor voices and those of the stumbling policemen by the male bass voices. The beautiful young wards of the major-general were portrayed by the girl members of the chorus. This was the third time that "Pirates" has been given at LT, and the hard work put in by the choir and orchestra on the production made this popular Gilbert and Sullivan operetta a great success.

With their flashy twirling and novel stunts, the twirlers lent color to many LT sports events. Their twirling was a bright spot of the football and basketball seasons; they made the halves something to look forward to.

Aside from sports activities the girls led the Memorial day parade, and entered a float in the Homecoming parade. They checked coats in their booth at the Mardi Gras.

In order to give less experienced girls a chance, the club is divided into three groups: the beginners, intermediates, and regulars. These groups receive instructions at separate meetings, but mass meetings are also held to enable the girls to act as a group.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

The impetuous Ingals twins created quite a sensation when they returned home from college for Christmas in The Goose Hangs High, written by Lewis Beach and directed by Mr. Bacon. Portrayed by Carolyn Blackstone and Roy Ringlund, the twins provided some of the funniest moments in the play, which is a realistic drama of honesty and compassion winning out over selfishness and deceit.

The family crisis first arose when Mr. Ingals (Chuck Brodie) stated that he must either lose his position or help better the social standing of his boss Leo Day (Chuck Maurer). Meeting the situation with some doubt and uneasiness, Mr. Ingals placed the security and happiness of his children above his conscience and agreed to the proposition.

Granny, played by Mary Patterson, attempted to prevent the family upset by making the parents realize that the twins were becoming hopelessly spoiled. Mrs. Ingals (Wynn Weidner) and her husband went through a great ordeal before they would admit that Lois and Bradley didn't appreciate the sacrifices made to keep them in college. The level-headed elder son, Hugh, portrayed by Jerry Dougan, offered to assist by loaning money, but the loan was declined.

Finally after much ranting and raving, the entire family worked out the problem so that Mr. Ingals resumed his self-respect, the twins realized their selfishness, and harmonious happiness was restored to the Ingals household.

Supporting the cast were Barbara Kampmeyer, Jerry Slocum, Barbara Griffiths, Enid Hensel, Bill Munns, and Richard Johnson. Offstage voices were Richard Roberts, John Fisher, and Dick Tombaugh.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

The juniors scored their first dramatic success the evenings of October 21 and 22 as the curtain rose and fell on the colorful, laugh-filled production of Meet Me in St. Louis. The play, directed by Mr. Stacey, portrayed the lively antics of the Smith family's young people, Lon (Dan Diersen), Rose (Nancy Holsapple), and Esther (Sue Murray).

News of the transfer of Mr. Smith (John Boose) from St. Louis to New York precipitated a household tragedy for the teenagers, whose roots were sunk in their old home town. Lon's love life with Ida (Madge McKiernan) was converted into a triangle with the arrival of Lucille Pentard (Carol Warren) from the Eastern society set. Gene Taylor as John Shephard and Bill Fasset as Fred Gregory were the men for whom the daughters wished to remain in St. Louis.

The situation was intensified as the young twins of the Smith family, Tootie (Nancy Bagg) and Agnes (Georgene Guzzardo), tangled with Mr. Smith's business superiors Mr. Dodge (Dave Morse) and Mr. Duffy (Barney Gragg).

Mrs. Smith (Nan Wilson and Meryl Snyder), Gramps, (Keith Yarborough), Katie, the cook (Martha Brooks), Mrs. Waughop, an annoyed neighbor (Gretchen Gibbons), and the railroad conductor (Bob Young) added further activity to this memorable performance.

CROSS COUNTRY

Beginning the season by tying Oak Park, Coach Max Armer's squad captured three straight dual meet victories before falling to the York harriers on homecoming weekend.

Following a second victory, secured at Oak Park, and two conference losses, the LT two milers entered the district meet held at RB October 29. The Lions placed fourth in the district, preceded by Downers, York, and Maine.

Outstanding performer for the season was Dexter Sanborn, who was clocked in 10:25 at York, the fastest time this year for the course.

Coach Armer asserts that the future of the LT cross country is bright. This year's frosh soph team placed second at the Leyden Invitation meet, and many of the frosh-soph and juniors have shown considerable promise.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The 1949 season was an unusual one, in that the WSC Conference title left La Grange after a three year stay. As the season began, Chuck Bennett and Greg Sloan had a big job ahead of them as virtually all of last year's championship team had graduated. After several weeks of hard work, the team opened its tough nine game schedule against Oak Park. After scrapping scorelessly for three quarters, the Huskies scored, converted, and led 7-0, with six minutes of play remaining. Then Oak Park confidently kicked off and Dean McKown gathered in the ball on his own five yard line and raced all the way to score behind fine interference. Babe Hallberg then kicked the extra point to tie the score. A minute later Dave Eckley intercepted a Huskie pass and three plays later Ken Johnson ploughed over from the 11 yard line to give the Lions a thrilling 13-7 victory.

In the next game the Lions were beaten decisively by a powerful New Trier team 20-6. The Lions opened the conference season by slipping past Glenbard 13-12. The RB Bulldogs were the next Lion foes and they fielded a rugged team that rose up and dealt the Lions their first conference defeat since 1946. Extra points were the difference as the Lions bowed 21-19. Undaunted, the varsity made Homecoming a big success by wrecking York 26-6. The following week, the Lions journeyed to Downers Grove to battle the league leading Trojans and when the smoke had cleared away, the Lions were on top by a 13-7 score.

With at least a tie for the title in sight, the varsity defeated Maine 13-7, in a hard fought game. The Lions scored first and led 6-0, but then the Blue Demons marched 87 yards to the LT two yard line where Joe Saban stole the ball from the Maine quarterback. This seemed to turn the tide and the Lions went on to score again for the margin of victory. Sharing the league lead with Downers Grove the Lions traveled to Hins-dale where the inspired Devils swamped them 12-0, for their first win over LT in 12 years. This loss forced the Lions into a second place tie with R.B. The Lions climaxed the season with a 24-6 victory over Leyden in a rough, wet game. Though the Lions didn't win the title they finished with a fine 6-3 record for the season. All-conference honors went to Lou Simpson and Chuck Pankow at guard, and to Dean McKown at halfback. With seven regulars returning next year the future looks bright for varsity football.

FROSH-SOPH FOOTBALL
CONFERENCE
CO-CHAMPIONS

Despite the loss of many of last year's regulars, Coaches Deason and Burghardt built up another strong Cub team which battled its way into a three-way tie for the conference championship. The frosh-soph opened their winning season by defeating Oak Park 8-0, and New Trier 13-7, on successive Saturdays. With these victories under their belts, the Cubs next defeated Glenbard at La Grange, with By Bennett scoring all three of the Cub's touchdowns. The frosh-soph then traveled to RB where they squashed the Bullpups in a 29-0 fashion.

On the next Saturday the team extended their winning ways by overpowering York 23-13. Following this the Cubs dumped Downers by a score of 33-7 in preparation for the big game with undefeated Maine. After a scoreless first period against Maine, quarterback Bill Burke took to the air and threw a pass to Bob Bell who lateraled to Johnny Clay for the score. Maine tied it up in the third quarter and the score stood at 7-7. In the fourth quarter the Cubs drove 80 yards in five plays and scored on a pass from Burke to McRae, who lateraled to Bennett for the tally. This victory extended the frosh-soph winning streak to twenty games and put them in undisputed first place in the conference.

Only Hinsdale barred the way to the third straight championship for the Cubs. In an action-packed game that will long be remembered by LT fans and players, the Imps overcame an early Cub lead and squeezed past them by a score of 26-24. By Bennett turned in a brilliant performance by scoring all four LT touchdowns on long runs. In the last game of the season, with several regulars on the bench, the Cubs dropped a 7-6 decision to Leyden.

The usual starting line-up for this year's co-champions was McRae and Bell at ends; Schaefer and Tracas at tackles; Loney and Esche at guards; McHale at center; and Bennett, Clay, Gillstrom, and Burke in the backfield.

WRESTLING

CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

Led by seven returning lettermen from last year's team, the wrestlers had their most successful season in several years. Guided by Coach Armer, the matmen not only brought home the first conference wrestling championship, but they compiled the best season record that an El Tee wrestling team has ever made. The grapplers won eleven meets and lost only two.

The team opened its season against New Trier, and with three regulars out with injuries, the Lions dropped a 27-9 decision to the Winnetkans, who later won the state championship. The first victory came over the always rugged Joliet team. The Steelmen were melted by a 24-18 score. Hinsdale fell next, following which York and Wheaton were shut out. The team continued its fast pace by roaring through Morgan Park, Thornton, and Wheaton for the second time, in preparation for the big meet with Maine. The winner of this meet would clinch at least a share of the coveted first trophy. Maine was confident and heavily favored by comparative scores, but the Lions surged to quick pins in the first two bouts, and they were never headed. When the smoke had cleared, the Armer men were on top by a 25-11 score. Leyden was thoroughly massaged next, and RB was defeated to bring the undisputed conference championship to El Tee. After handily whipping Morton, the team's ten-meet winning streak was broken by a tough Proviso team in the last meet of the season.

In the sectional tournament, held at RB, the Lions fought their way into second place and qualified three men for the state meet. Taking first places in the sectional were Jim and Chuck Pankow, while Stan Nash took a second. Third place honors went to Deane and Ed Tank, Joe Saban, and Dave Forgan. In the state meet, Chuck Pankow took a second place and Jim Pankow a fourth.

This year's fine record indicates the increasing popularity of wrestling at El Tee. The new wrestling room to be available next year should be a big boost to the sport at our school.

FROSH-SOPH BASKETBALL CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

For the third straight year Coach Lester Glick has directed the El Tee frosh-soph to a conference crown. Since frosh-soph competition has only been held for the last three years El Tee has held the trophy ever since its inauguration.

The Cubs started in midseason form with a victory over Niles. Next, they met a strong Evanston aggregation and were beaten 36-30 and got the same result against Argo. Roaring into conference play the Cubs whipped Hinsdale and Glenbard. Their only conference defeat was suffered at Downers Grove with the little Trojans coming out on top 32-30. After crushing New Trier and dropping a close decision to Batavia the team humiliated RB and then slipped by York 27-26. Maine, Hinsdale, and Glenbard all fell next as the Cubs rolled on. After they had conquered Leyden and Joliet the team started on the last leg of conference play. Out for revenge for an early defeat, the Cubs dumped Downers 43-30, and then squashed RB again. After suffering one of their infrequent defeats at the hands of Thornton, they steamrollered York again and copped another championship year with a 45-39 conquest of Maine.

Although this year's team was comprised for the most part of sophomores, next year's team led by Leon McRae should again be one of the top contenders for the crown. This year's team had Jack Reiners and Jim Tracas at forwards, Bill McDonald with Leon McRae alternating, at center. One of the guard positions was manned by Don Bissell while John Clay and Chester Baker played at the other guard post. The team finished far ahead of the pack in the conference race and had an enviable 15-5 record for the entire season.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The 1949-1950 varsity cagers had an up and down season as far as its over-all won and lost record was concerned. The team sparkled in the conference however, and surprised everyone by finishing in a second tie in the WSC. With all of last year's team gone and with juniors comprising most of this year's material the Lions were not expected to finish high in the conference standings.

Early season results seemed to bear out these dismal forecasts. The team warmed up for conference play by dropping its first three games to Niles, Evanston, and Argo. Hinsdale was the initial conference foe and the Red Devils won handily from the inept, young Lions. The regular line-up for these games was juggled constantly by Coach Greg Sloan in an effort to find an effective combination. A victory hungry lineup composed of Randy Snyder at center, Dave Watson and Joe Remelsberger at forwards, and By Bennett and Babe Hallberg finally clicked against Glenbard and the Lions won their first victory 56-44. This lineup was used for the balance of the season and it won its second straight victory over Downers Grove. The undefeated Trojans were leading the Lions by twelve points at the half, but the El Tee delegation burned the paint off the hoop in the second half with 37 points and at the final buzzer the Lions were ten points ahead.

Over the holidays the team defeated Batavia and lost to New Trier, but the team roared back to stun unbeaten Riverside in one of the best games of the year. Joe Remelsberger and Dave Watson poured in thirty points between them in the 52-43 victory. The Lions split their next four conference games beating Maine and Glenbard while losing to Hinsdale and dropping a tight 54-52 decision to York and the referees. Two more non-conference foes were encountered and again the team split, thumping highly regarded Joliet 61-52 and losing to an efficient Leyden quintet. The return with Downers Grove was another thriller with the lead changing hands frequently until the final period when the Lions finally pulled away to win by a 54-46 score. Riverside was not to be denied again and the red-hot zoo-landers flattened the Lions by a 68-47 margin. After the Flying Clouds of Thornton had sailed over the team by a 47-39 score, the Lions pulled together and whipped both York and Maine to tie for second in the conference.

In the rough Morton regional the Lions easily dumped Morgan Park M.A. 58-34 in the first round. On the next night, the season came to an abrupt end as the team ran into Leyden again and was flattened, 51-39. And so the season ended with the team sporting an 11-11 record. Joe Remelsberger and Dave Watson finished high in the conference scoring race and Remelsberger was elected to the all-conference team. With only Snyder leaving the first five and many able replacements available, the first season in the new fieldhouse should indeed be brilliant for the team.

TRACK

As defending state champions for the second straight year, the Lions have their work cut out for them this season. Although a great part of last year's downstate delegation has graduated, several valuable point-getters have returned for this year's competition. Returning are Jim Caffey in the sprints and broad jump, Rod Webber in the hurdles, Dean McKown in the pole vault and relays, Bob Van Horn in the relays, and Dexter Sanborn in the distances. Hardest hit by graduation have been the shotput and discus events with all of last year's weight men gone.

The team has done very well to date, winning early indoor meets with Elgin, Naperville, and East Aurora. The team ran away with the Naperville relays, winning both the varsity and frosh-soph titles and bringing home seven trophies. The Lions lost their Oak Park relays crown, however, coming in third behind Oak Park and Evanston.

With Coach Russ Deason showing the way, the Lions should improve further as the team moves outdoors. The Lions are favored to win the conference meet, and the district meet promises to be a real battle with Oak Park for the title. The race for the state crown will be a close one, but in any event, the Lions should be a real threat.

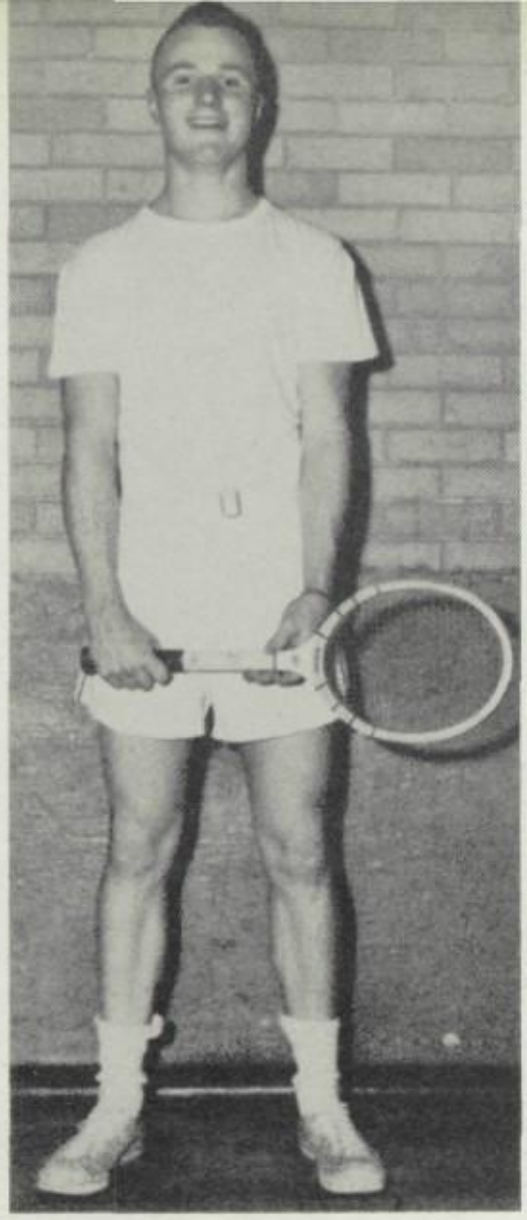
BASEBALL

Though the Tab goes to press too early to report the success of this year's baseball team, the outlook for the season seems to be bright. With seven lettermen returning from last year's championship team the Lions are a definite contender for the title again this season.

A strong, veteran infield is available with regulars Jim Mitchell at first base, Ralph Goodyear at second, and Bob Van Nest at shortstop. Two more returning regulars are pitcher Jim Hagadone and catcher Dick Coffland. Other lettermen are Jerry Skidmore and John Miller. Chief problem is the replacement of last year's entire outfield and the bolstering up of the pitching staff. Figured to share the mound duties with Hagadone are Lawrence Topps and Jim Mitchell. Other men expected to see action in the outfield and infield are John Murphy, Ed Stock and Babe Hallberg. In the words of Coach Glick, "We should be a strong contender for another conference title."

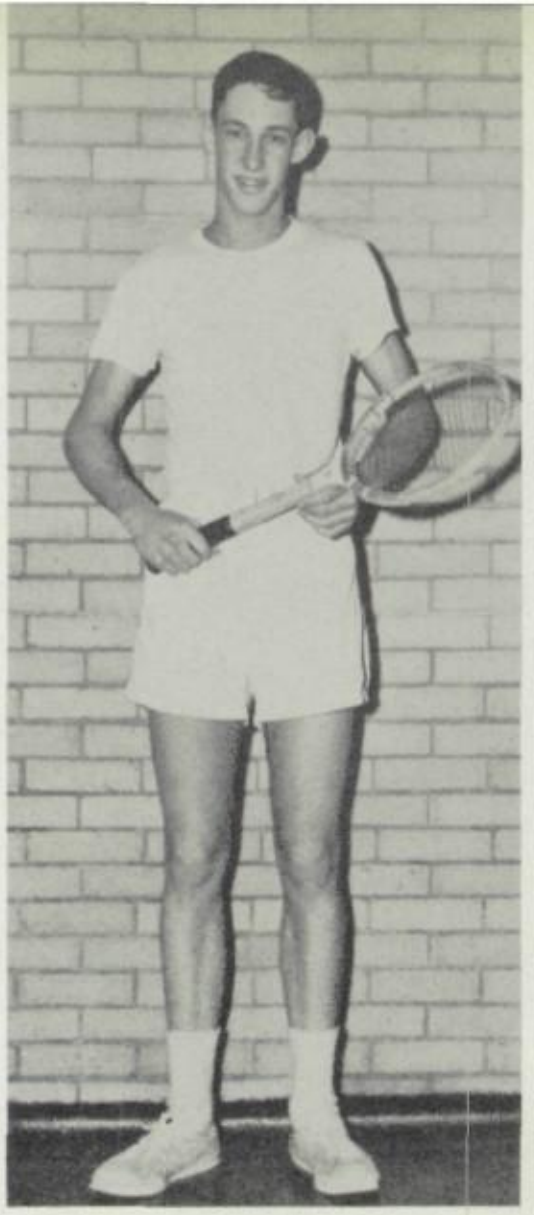
Row 1: C. Chesloe, W. Mickle, H. Walther, E. Alderdyce, B. Burke, G. Link, D. Macon. Row 2: R. Goodyear, L. Hallberg, J. Hagadone, J. Murphy, D. Coffland, J. Mitchell, B. Van Nest, J. Busch, D. Fredericks, D. Kohlstedt, D. O'Connor, A. Jern, J. Janicek.



TENNIS

With a difficult schedule arranged to provide plenty of stiff competition, Coach Frank Allen is working hard to knit together a well-balanced tennis squad in the limited period of time available for pre-season practice. Prospects for varsity singles positions include three highly-rated men, Randy Snyder, Dick Cole, and Herb Pettersen. Other possibilities are Norm Eifler and Jim Carr. The varsity doubles spots have many contenders. Among these are Norm Eifler, Peter Irvine, Don Kennedy, Dick Krause, Ron Miller, George Phillips, Dick Tombaugh, Chuck Brodie, Bruce Scott, and Jim Carr.

Frosh-soph expectations are high due to many returning netmen from last year's freshman ranks. These promising sophomores include Dick Herberts and John Vaughn, Bob Hoff, Ron Prater, Bill Spick, John Feldman, and Jerry Mattka. Frosh aspirants are Robert Hansen, Jim Groesser, and William Vaughn.



Row 1: J. Carr, B. Baxter, B. Spick, B. Hoff, J. Vaughn, D. Kennedy, R. Snyder, N. Eifler, H. Petterson, D. Krause. Row 2: D. Van de Houten, L. Battles, R. Prater, J. Feldmann, V. Ooms, D. GOLF

A record 40 boys have signed up at the outset of the golf season and Coach John Payne predicts the resulting team will be good or average depending on how the practice develops.

Formidable opposition will be offered by conference contenders Maine, Downers Grove, and Hinsdale with little competition being offered outside the conference.

Mainstay returning seniors will be Ed Staren, Bill Brafford, Ed Ptacek, and Dick Roberts. Junior Bob Carlisle also ranks high with Gene McCoy close behind. Frosh-soph hopefuls include yearling Allan French and sophomore Dale Carlson.

New in the picture is the frosh-soph meet to be held at White Pines where the top five from each of several schools will compete.

The months to follow will tell the tale, but all should go well if the boys "get in the groove."

GAA is LT's answer to the boys' sports activities. Through its various groups—basketball, horseback, bowling, tumbling, swimming, hockey, speedball, soccer and dancing—GAA helps its members to attain true sportsmanship, as well as to meet new people and to get good exercise.

The girls have an opportunity to contend with other schools on the playdays. Argo, Morton, Hinsdale, RB, Downers Grove, and LT girls participate in these big affairs. GAA sponsors interscholastic tennis, the only girls' interscholastic sport at LT. Last year LT's team won the league championship.

But all is not work for these future Olympic champs. Their two annual square dances are very popular. Then, too, initiation of all members with 50 or more activity points is a riotous affair.

Members of GAA can be found in all classes; it is one of LT's biggest organizations. A vote of thanks must be given to Mrs. Glick, Miss Hileman, and Mrs. Bogdanski who have contributed much time and effort toward the success of this organization.

LEADERS . . . Most of the twenty gym leaders plan to enter some field of physical education. Now these juniors and seniors are getting valuable training in refereeing games and checking attendance and shower numbers. They spend one hour a week after school in learning rules and playing. This year they went to the Ice Capades and held a picnic at the end of the year.

DANCING . . . This relatively small group worked primarily on dance technique and composition. Assisted by France Walker and Miss Hileman, the girls planned many dances and executed them for admiring audiences.

BOWLING . . . So many aspiring bowlers turned out this year that the group had to be divided into nine week terms. Ten captains with five member teams were selected. Ann Winkelman's team won the annual tournament. Highlight of the year was the Illinois high school telegraphic bowling tournament. Bowling, which offers an opportunity to meet new people, and to get lots of exercise, is sponsored by Miss Thompson and headed by Ann Winkelman.

FALL SPORTS . . . Active sports all, these activities received loads of attention from LT girls. These sports are the girls' answer to football, as those who participated in the games will verify. Pat Schroeder and Beverly Green offered assistance to the many, many participants.

TUMBLING . . . Spurred on by Nancy Wood and Mrs. Glick, GAA tumblers learned difficult stunts in order to obtain activity points, four points a stunt. Beginners were assisted in head stands by their more advanced fellows, many of whom presented their bags of tricks at the Corral show.

SWIMMING . . . Janet Campbell and Miss Gage assisted GAA swimmers in perfecting their swan dives and Australian crawls at the 19th Century club. Swimming began in February. At each meeting a ten minute instruction period was followed by the practicing of all the tricks learned.

BASKETBALL . . . This ever popular sport received even more backers this year. Girls from all four classes were found to be avid basketball enthusiasts. Fundamentals were taught, or reviewed, at the beginning of the season by Joan Van de Houten and Mrs. Bogdanski. An elimination tournament, which Joan Van de Houten's all senior team won, was the main activity of the year.

HORSEBACK . . . Divided into three groups by virtue of their riding ability, these girls spent Tuesday afternoons "on the trail." The loss of twenty two favorite mounts in the Greentree stable fire did not keep them from continuing with their riding. They also participated in contests to show their merit. Beginners get valuable information from Mrs. Smith, Miss Christopherson, and Jeanne English.
